Daisies Used As Insecticide

WASHINGTON - In Africa, Japan and Ecuador farm workers are paid to pick daisies.

However idyllic it sounds, picking daisies is purely a business proposition. The white-petaled, yellow-centered flower is known as pyrethrum, says the National Geographic Society, and it yields an extremely potent insecticide. Last year the United States imported almost 8,000,000 pounds of the dried blooms.

Pyrethrum's fluid or powder extract serves a score of uses. Householders spray it to kill mosquitoes, flies and ants. Cattlemen douse it on their herds. Sugar beet farmers spread it on their crops. In flour mills and food plants its liberal use assures sanitary operations.

Persian Wildflower

Chrysanthemum cinerariaefolium, as it is botanically known, was discovered centuries ago in Persia where the flowers grow wild. When use of the powder spread to Europe, Yugoslavia became a chief source.

For a time, Japan gained a vir-East Africa and the Belgian Congo have emerged as the leading growers.

Ecuador's initial exports in 1953 capped a 10-year research program to develop pyrethrum as a major crop. India, Russia, and a tions have grown small quantities.

Pyrethrum was introduced into the United States about 1860. Attempts to grow the crop commerfailed because of excessive harvesting costs.

The plants bloom spasmodically and the flowers must be picked by the Michigan Department of by hand. They can be sun dried, Health. but in most large-scale operations, drying is done artificially.

Father may be the breadwinner—there's a day set aside for him, too-but Mother is the real main cog in the home and in the family. It is she who brings the childern into the world, nurtures them through the period of infancy, guides them through adolescence and loves them always with a devout love that only Mother can give.

Mother's chores in the home are endless and too often apparently unappreciated. Oh, the appreciation is there alright. Everyone knows the tremendous sacrifices that Mother makes but unfortunately, so few of us are thoughtful enough to show our appreciation.

But tomorrow is Mother's Day. It is a day dedicated to appreciation of Mother. It is a special day for a special person. It is one of the truly great holidays of the year.

Words. Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Today's word game is designed to test your ability to recognize words similar to one another in meaning. Below you will find two groups of ten words each. The first group is numbered 1, 2, 3, etc. The second is lettered A, B, C, etc.

For each word in the first group you will find a word of almost the same meaning (a synonym) in the second group. Thus the word numbered 1 may mean practically the same as the word lettered F. Write this down as 1F. When you have written down all the answers, check against the correct pairings at the bottom.

The Old Testament would not be an honest record if it did not reflect the times out of which it came. Nor would it be so profound a book about man if it ignored the evil in him and dealt only with his quest of righteousness and his achievements of faith and goodness.

WASHINGTON-Two of the most persuasive personalities in the western world -Winston Churchill and Adm. Arthur Radford-met in London for a vital unpublicized talk on Indo-China the other day and though it hasn't been announced, Churchill proved himself the most persuasive.

The question at issue was whether Great Britain should support the United States and back up our proposed intervention in Indo-China.

Secretary of State Dulles, who also talked with Churchill on his earlier trip to Europe, got nowhere with him. The aged Following this, Admiral Radford stopped off in London to try his luck with Churchill. Radford is considered one of the most dynamic men in Washington. In fact, he won his job as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff partly by his persuasive personality. For, when President-elect Eisenhower stopped off at Iwo Jima on his trip to Korea, Radford met him, took Ike for an hour's walk while the plane refueled, and phasis on Asia, not Europe. And it provides during that time sold him on a lot of ideas for use against the Chinese mainland.

Ike was so impressed that he asked Radford to accompany him on the remainder

The prime minister, however, was adamant. He said that American intervention in Indo-China would be the biggest mistake the United States could ever make. And Radford, despite his logic and eloquence, could not budge him.

Note-After his talk with Churchill Radford was suddenly called home. He was not scheduled to return, but got White House instructions to come back immediately-presumably to report to the National Security Council.

section of the Upper Peninsula makes for interesting reading, since he explores the off-the-beaten-path and backwoods country and reports on its appeal to the tourist. Yet to the patriots of the U. P. some of his report sounds like heresy.

For example, I was prepared to take issue with Martin on his assertion that no one should journey to the U. P. "much earlier than July 1" because you "cannot count on good weather up here till about the Fourth of July."

Having read Martin's piece earlier this week I considered that warning peculiarly unnecessary. It was cold and windybut nice weather, well rather nice wea-

SEPTEMBER AND OCTOBER-And if folks should follow your advice, Mr. Martin, and come to the Upper Peninsula "surely no later than Labor Day," they will miss some of the region's finest weather.

All of September and October are special bargain days up here. Ask that unfortunate who comes here to find relief from hayfever, caused by the Middle West's abuadant ragweed pollen. He will enthu-siatically endorse our climate. Ask the fishermen, who will tell you that bass and fighting northern pike strike best in Autumn; ask the hunter who enjoys going afield for grouse, for wood cock and prairie chicken.

They will tell you how the sky turns blue as the petals of the fringed gentian growing in the marshes. And how the poplars yellow spire flares brightly against the darkly pine-clad hills.

THE NAME HOYLER has been identified with the baking industry in Escanaba for 70 years. Richard Hoyler started Escanaba's first bakery shop in 1884 and continued its management until 1907.

His son, Fred R. Hoyler, organized the firm of Hoyler & Baur in 1914 and directed the company until 1944. Since that time Richard Hoyler, grandson of the founder, has assumed management of the company. Hoyler & Baur has enjoyed a steady growth and is today Upper Michigan's best known producer of bread. In 1935 the retail division of this concern was abandoned, the floor space it occupied being needed for the new equipment that its expanding wholesale activities re-

Hoyler & Baur, specializing in breads, now manufacture exclusively for distribution through retail food stores. Their trade name "Northland Bread" is familiar to most of the Upper Peninsula. This company now distributes to food store dealers within a 75 mile radius of Delta County.

Hoyler & Baur have kept pace with the progress of the baking industry, new equipment being added as rapidly as its worth was proven and new formulas adopted whenever a better way of making bread was found. The value of this policy has proved itself in the enviable position Hoyler & Baur occupy in the bread industry of today.

Miss Sandra Shipman

Miss Sandra Shipman, sophomore at Emerson College, Boston, will have the leading role of Liza Eliott in the school's most costly production in its history, Moss Hart's musical, "Lady in the Dark." The show has taken four months to prepare and will celebrate for Miss Shipman an exciting year of dramatic achievement.

Earlier this year, she scored an overwhelming success in Emerson's production of Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke." in the roll of Alma. She scored again in an original musical, "Take the Plunge," presented by her sorority, Zeta Phi Eta.

Sandra, an English major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shipman, former Escanaba residents, who now reside at 502 Front St., Marquette.

Art Instruction In Public Schools Puts Emphasis On Self Expression

sters at the beginning of their school careers are natural born

Unbelievable as this may sound to the average individual who has seen Sis or Junior's unsightly scrawlings on sidewalks, side of houses and even on the front room wallpaper, the foregoing statement is made by women who teach art in Escanaba public schools and are well versed on the subject.

This theme was convincingly enlarged upon at a meeting at the Junior High School Tuesday evening by the school system's art instructors who spoke before members of the Board of Education and representatives of women's club committees and various other interested groups on the part art education plays in the school's

Children Love To Draw

Give the average six-year-old some bright colored crayons and paper and the child, if left to his own devices, will soon be engrossed in laboriously scrawling a lot of jagged lines, blots and dashes that to anyone else can mean nothing whatsoever. But the intentness with which the child works gives meaning to his effort. When asked to state what he is drawing he will very likely say that he is making a picture of a dog or a man or a house. What these scrawlings lack in truthful delineation is more than made up in the child's boundless imagination and it probably seems almost photographic to him.

Such was the theory advanced at the meeting concerning latent talent in a small child.

The development of the child as he advances through the grades was explained by the instructors, who showed samples of student's work as they advanced through the grades and through high

Why Art In Schools?

Miss Margaret Kranstover, chairman of the school's group of are instructors and supervisor of art in the Junior and Senior High Schools presided at the meeting, calling on teachers to explain their part in the program.

Mrs. Victor Powers, kindergarten instructor, told of the initial steps taken in guiding this human raw material. Art instruction, she said, does not primarily seek to make artists out of the children, nor is art appreciation the main objective. The main purpose, she said, is to develop a child's ability to think and to think creatively. Drawing, she said, creates problems which the youngster must work out for himself. The child, as he grapples with these problems learns to select, reject, depict colors and learn to do things

Bringing out this potential talent requires unlimited patience on the part of the teacher, she said.

Guidance Begins Miss Charlene Loebel, elementary teacher, explained that the instructor in the primary grades methods of self expression. Children in the lower grades are much concerned with realism, she said, and development of a child's powers of observation is most important at this point.

She offered a number of drawings to illustrate her point. They consisted of drawings by the children, where under the teacher's guidance they had taken on understandable form. The human head for instance, was represented by a circle with circular blobs to serve as eyes, a horizontal dash as mouth and parallel lines jutting out on top for hair. AP Newsfeatures A NEW IDEA in split level construction, this house has a one-story front, two-story rear, with bedrooms half a flight up and half a flight down from the living room. Only the fireplace and chimney separate the kitchen from the rest of the open planned family room. This is plan No. 7326 by Herman York, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2. N. Y. The house was built and sold with a quarter-acre of land in Eastwood Village, Centereach, N. Y., for $13,000. The upper levels cover 939 square feet; the lower level at rear covers 391 square feet. THERE ARE MANY ways a WHAT WILL IT COST? Well, house can be enlarged by making here are some actual estimates use of spaces which already have a roof, a floor and all or part of the wall structure needed. One of the biggest spaces going to waste in the average house is the basement. Modern heating and dehumidifying equipment, new finishing materials, landscaped window wells and various other devices have changed our thinking about basements.

The next big space, on which lots of people are paying carrying charges and taxes, is the unused attic. Modern insulation can make an attic as comfortable as any other part of a house.

Then the advent of car ports, and the realization that cars today stand outdoors far longer than under a roof, have shown many families that garage space can be put to much more valuable use.

And it seems that breezeways between house and garage are mainly built by people who think of better ways to use that space by enclosing it.

Finally the old porch (how often do you use it, especially in dull weather?) offers excellent space for an extra room.

IT USED TO BE that any such alteration in a house meant a lot of muss, such as dripping water around while mixing plaster, scattering sawdust while cutting innumerable small boards, etc. Today dry wall construction, pre-

IN THE HOME WORKSHOP!

There is more to hanging curtains and draperies than meets the eye. There is the matter of fixtures-the right kind and how to place them. A valance shelf may be needed, or a simple cornice box. These questions arise whether curtains are made at home or bought ready-made. If material is bought by the yard there are sewing details that will make the difference between a home-made and a professional job. Measurements are important too. How much to allow for headings, hems and shrinkage? Or how much fullness for different kinds of material? Pattern 325 illustrates the steps in measuring to avoid waste; the various fixtures: hanging French pleats, traverse rigging, lining, problem windows. Price of pattern is 25c postpaid. A thermostat in every room'

"including bathrooms

NOW... individual temperature control in each room, at a cost which permits its use in any home or building

You never saw anything like it. With SelecTemp you have a compact heating unit, with its own individual thermostat, in every room, including bathrooms. The same lowpressure steam which carries heat to each unit operates a steam turbine driven fan which quietly circulates filtered warm air. Circulation is constant, not "on-and-off." No electric wiring is required for thermostat or fan.

Think of the comfort of having every room kept at just the temperature the occupants prefer. Cost? Very reasonable. Little more or no more than for many heating systems with only one thermostat in the whole house. Ideal for modernization and for new construction.

Come in-see SelecTemp in actual operation. Or telephone for free catalog folder.

Motor Arrives For City Pump

The first of two motors needed for large pumps in the new water pumping station arrived here Friday, Orson Livermore, city manager, reports.

Engineers from the Francis Engineering company are scheduled to come shortly to install the material, the manager said.

One more pump and a power switchboard are among items still needed for the station, construction on which was started last year.

Plans call for first putting one of the two large pumps in operation, along with low-lift units, for use while some material is brought from the old pumping station for the second pump in the new unit. the manager stated.

Billy Maycunich, St. Joe's all-around sports star, has quite a string going with the Trojan baseball team . . . Maycunich has scored nine straight times at bat for the Trojans in their past two starts against Bark River and Powers . . . In his string he's been on base five times on walks, three times on hits and once on an error . . . Two of the tallies were scored by stealing home.

Buck Nystrom of Marquette and Roland Dotsch, formerly of Garden, will be the starting guards on the Green team against the Whites in today's intra-squad game at Michigan State College . . . Both players saw extensive action in the Spartan Rose Bowl victory at Pasadena last winter.

This area is expected to be well represented at the World's Championship Roleo at Priest River, Idaho, June 25-27 . . . Probable entries are Billy and Adolph Girard, Bob Bizeau and Janis Hoffmann of Gladstone, Mark Olson of Escanaba and Jim Ogle of Marquette.

Two Walton Blesch field records were broken in Menominee Wednesday afternoon in a triagular meet involving Menominee, Marinette and Stephenson . . . Dick Leroy of Stephenson knocked a full second off the 180-yard low hurdles record held by Loren Wall last year . . . He skimmed the sticks in 21.5 seconds . . . Dick Pichette of Marinette stretched the shot put record to 49 feet, 11 inches . . . Menominee's Allen Defaut, who has a speech and hearing defect, handed Jim Laurin of Stephenson his first 440 defeat this year . . . Defaut sped the quarter mile in 55.7, best time posted in the U. P. this spring and two-tenths of a second better than Laurin's winning time in the Upper Peninsula finals

Speaking of track, the Manistique Emerald harriers will be competing at the Escanaba Athletic Field next Saturday for the first time in many years . . . In the past the Emeralds competed in the regional meet at Marquette to qualify for the U. P. finals but this year they will take part in the regional here.

Hormones May Cause Insanity

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

AP Science Reporter ST. LOUIS (A)-Maybe people go insane because their bodies start making a queer insanity chemical, a psychiatrist said Friday.

This chemical might be something made out of adrenalin, the potent hormone which jazzes up our bodies for fight or flight.

Some people may be born with a chemical machinery predisposed to make this chemical. Or it might appear when the body chemistry goes haywire from repeated stresses and strains.

This chemical theory for insanity and new evidence for it were described to the American Psychiatric Assn. in a report by Doctors Max Rinkel, Robert W. Hyde and Harry C. Solomon of the Boston Psychophatic Hospital.

It offers the possibility of pinpointing what the insanity chemical is, and then to counteract it to prevent and treat "mankind's greatest plague, insanity," Dr. Rinkel said.

The theory is based partly upon intensive studies with a drug which gives normal people the feelings and other signs of schizophrenia, one of the worst insanities.
